On November 7th, next Tuesday, the voters of Lenawee County will have the opportunity to directly affect the programs and services of the county and determine the direction of county funding for the future. The question before the voters of Lenawee County is the "Renewal of Separate Tax Limitation Proposal." The success or failure of the proposal will directly impact operations of county government. Our primary concern is that when voters cast their votes next week they do so with an understanding of the policy and financial results of this proposal.

The purpose of the proposal is to renew and establish the maximum authorized millage rate for County operations, general law townships and the allocated portion of the intermediate school district. In the case of Lenawee County, the millage rate has been reduced over time from the 5.75 mills approved in 1968 to the current 4.9412. The renewal would restore the maximum authorized to 5.75 mills.

There has been some misinformation about what the ballot proposal says and how to vote to either fund services or not fund services. As stated above, the renewal sets the maximum authorized levy. The County of Lenawee would use a portion of that increased authorization to continue to fund the services that are offered today. Simply put, a YES vote continues funding for all programs and services currently in place; a NO vote reduces or eliminates some of those programs and services.

There have also been questions concerning which programs and services would be reduced or eliminated. The Board of Commissioners have two different budget recommendations before them at their meeting on November 8th; the day after the election. One recommendation, predicated on the ballot proposal passing, funds all current operations. The other recommendation, in the event the proposal fails, reduces and eliminates programs and services to maintain a balanced and affordable budget.

Information about the budgets and the funding affected is available on the County website. In brief, if the ballot issue fails, funding for road patrol, 4-H programs, recycling, soil conservation, economic development and special court programs will be reduced or eliminated completely. This is not something that the Board of Commissioners wishes to do. However, the commissioners are responsible for the financial health of county government and they have constitutional and statutory requirements to provide certain offices and services. Simply put, they are required to fund some programs. Others are funded, or not, with any remaining funds.

It should be clear that this ballot proposal will set the direction for Lenawee County in the coming years; determining what programs and services will be available to county residents. There is information on the county website to inform voters on this important decision.

Lenawee County is Investing in Parks by Maintaining and Enhancing the Grounds

Posted on October 1, 2017 at 5:24 PM by Jennifer Ambrose

Lenawee County is home to a lush landscape that is rich with native wildlife. Residents of all ages can connect with nature and enjoy a variety of recreational activities at our many local parks. According to a recent survey, 98% of Bob Griffin is the cross country coach for Britton Deerfield Schools. He brings his cross country teams to practice at the park on a regular basis. "It is close to our school and it's close to home," says Bob. "It is very well-maintained and it has the perfect mix of flat areas, rolling hills and steep hills. It is the perfect cross country course."

Features and Benefits of Local Parks

In addition to Gerber Hill Park, there are many other local parks that residents can enjoy within the county, including Bicentennial, Iron Lake, Medina and Ramsdell. Each park offers its own unique atmosphere. Some parks are more developed, while others are geared toward preserving nature. Most parks offer picnic shelters with grills, playground equipment, sports fields and various recreational activities, such as hiking, fishing, boating and biking.

Lenawee County residents have visited at least one of the public parks and 25% of residents reported that they visit the local parks on a weekly basis.

The parks are open from 8:00 a.m. until dusk from Memorial Day weekend through Labor Day, unless otherwise noted. During the off-season, the parks are open on weather permitting weekends. There is no entry fee for any of the parks in the county.

Brian Sills, a resident of Blissfield brings his young children to the Lenawee County parks to enjoy the many family-oriented activities. "We like to come up to the park to walk on the trails or play on the playground. In the winter we like to go sledding," explains Brian. "We would miss having the park if it wasn't available."

Adequate Funding is Key to Supporting the Parks

A successful parks recreation program usually relies on many sources of funding. The Lenawee County Parks Department relies on general tax dollars, grants, and gifts from citizens. Annual parks revenues in Lenawee County averaged about $34,000 from 2009 through 2013. Ongoing support through tax revenue is critical to ensuring that the parks remain open and in good condition.

The 419 acres of parkland and miles of trails in our parks are maintained by the Lenawee County Parks Department. Their mission is to enhance the quality of life in Lenawee County by providing recreational, social and cultural opportunities for the public. They also play a role in the preservation, conservation, restoration and promotion of the natural, scenic and historical resources in Lenawee County.

Investing in Parks, Investing in You

The county parks are a valued resource for all citizens. The Lenawee County Parks Department is committed to maintaining 'green space' for the benefit of our residents and to preserve and protect wildlife in the area. Lenawee County has updated its five-year parks and recreation plan to define its goals and objectives through the year 2019. This plan outlines the existing recreation facilities and programs within the county and describes the desired action to be taken to improve and maintain recreation facilities in the future.

Gerber Hill Park – A Hidden Gem

There is a long history behind Gerber Hill Park. It was formed by glaciers, which left a sand base where the park is now located. With over 40 acres of land, this park provides many family-friendly activities, such as horseshoe pits, soccer and baseball fields, basketball and volleyball courts, playgrounds and a sledding hill for winter months. There is also a pond where visitors can observe local wildlife.

Ongoing maintenance and upkeep is critical to keeping the parks in excellent condition for the residents of Lenawee County. This will ensure that individuals and families will continue to enjoy the parks for many years to come.

The park has also become a second home to local cross country running teams. Longtime resident Al Navarro has been coming to Gerber Hill Park for years. After complaining that his cross country team at Blissfield Community Schools was unable to compete in hilly areas, he was contacted by Frank Gerber who offered use of the park's rolling landscape for the team to practice. "He offered to cut the grass for us and cut some trails for us," Al recalls. "This park is a hidden gem because unless you are actually from the area you don't know what's out here."
